I. Main Research and Professional Interests

My research engages issues relating aging, trauma, and mental health. More specifically, I study the effects of the aging and dying processes on well-being, the effects of massive trauma (especially the Holocaust) and its intergenerational transmission on late-life health.

J. MA and PhD Students

Former PhD students:

1. Dr. Cohen-Fridel, Sara, PhD dissertation; The relationship between subjective distance to death and cognitive and emotional complexity (co-supervision with Prof. Yaacov Yablon).
2. Dr. Halperin Ben-Zvi, Michal*, PhD dissertation; Social networks and the incorporation of others in the self as a function of age and subjective distance to death – A cross-cultural comparison (co-supervision with Prof. Ehud Bodner).
3. Dr. Diamond Bensimon, Shira*, PhD dissertation; From within darkness: the meaning of creative engagement for Holocaust survivor artists (co-supervision with Prof. Natti Ronel). **Winner of the Rector's 4-Year Grant for Outstanding PhD Students.*
4. Dr. Goldbart, Anna, PhD dissertation; Emotional complexity and coping with pain and stress (co-supervision with Prof. Ehud Bodner).
5. Dr. Maytles, Ruth, PhD dissertation; Relationship between parental loss in the Holocaust, PTSD symptoms, attachment patterns, perceptions of aging and caregiver burden among survivors and their offspring (co-supervision with Dr. Yoav Bergman).
6. Dr. Patshnick, Yoel, PhD dissertation; The reciprocal effects of subjective aging, personality and mental health in older adults undergoing significant physical and cognitive decline (co-supervision with Dr. Yaakov Hoffman).
